

The Ten

Infinite Deity Ethos

- 10:1 Look no further for 'miracles' than that of your own consciousness – your existence – it is a privilege absolutely beyond description.
- 10:2 Regard yourself as neither superior nor inferior to anything within the Infinite Universe – merely a part of it.
- 10:3 Respect everything within the Infinite Universe. Avoid needlessly extinguishing life or disturbing natural order within the Infinite Universe. Take from it no more than you need.
- 10:4 Species Homo sapiens – as with all 'life' upon this grain of sand on an infinite beach – has a superb Universal purpose: To arrive, procreate, nurture to independence and depart. Seek no 'answer' since there is no question – The Profound is all around.
- 10:5 The longevity of your conscious existence is balanced between random chance and your own actions.
- 10:6 Acknowledge that without exception, every word of every text that exists, has existed or will exist is the product of Human thought.
- 10:7 Partake freely from the ever deepening well of Human knowledge and wisdom contained within the written word.
- 10:8 One moment of remorse is worth more than a lifetime of useless guilt. Be aware of and reflect upon your innate primatial instincts – nice to nasty.
- 10:9 As far as practically possible, follow a simple Palaeolithic-inspired diet supplemented by a sensible vitamin and mineral regimen. Choose to utilize self-powered mobility at every opportunity.
- 10:10 Take up your möbius Infinite Deity symbol and follow your conscience.
